

Concrete operations assistant (Newbury)

Hills Quarry Products Ltd is seeking a concrete operations assistant to join the team based at Newbury concrete.

The main purpose of this role, which reports to the concrete plant manager, is to operate mobile plant in the loading of aggregates and to take and prepare samples of concrete products for testing. The successful candidate will also be required to provide relief cover at other company sites.

An operator's licence to work with mobile plant is essential and knowledge and experience of working in a wet/dry concrete batching environment would be an advantage.

The role requires the testing, sampling and recording of mixes and to have an understanding of quality assurance. Candidates will need to be flexible, customer focused and to have a clean driving licence.

An LGV licence and an NVQ/QCF qualification in a quarry or concrete related discipline would be preferred.
