

Concrete operations assistant (Newbury)

Hills Quarry Products Ltd is seeking a concrete operations assistant, to join the team based at Newbury concrete.

The main purpose of this role, which reports to the concrete plant manager, is to operate mobile plant (mainly loading shovel) in the loading of aggregates and to take and prepare samples of concrete products for testing.

Knowledge and experience of operating mobile plant is essential, either through previous quarry working or from within the construction or agricultural sectors. Current plant operator's licenses' for loading shovel machinery would be advantageous.

Responsibilities also include general yard duties to maintain a clean and safe working environment and uphold the company's public image.

The role also requires the testing, sampling and recording of mixes and to have an understanding of quality assurance. Candidates will need to be flexible, customer focused and to have a clean driving licence.

An LGV (Class 2) Licence and an NVQ/QCF qualification in a quarry or concrete related discipline would be beneficial.

The successful candidate may also be required to provide relief cover at other company sites.
