Hills donates Easter treats to STEP Swindon

Employees at Hills have donated Easter treats to put a smile on the faces of disadvantaged youngsters across Swindon.

Sweet treats were presented to Johanna Bryant, Project Director for STEP Swindon by the Hills' employee charity committee.

STEP Swindon provides a safe, supportive environment for children and young people who are experiencing social isolation.

Johanna Bryant, Project Director, STEP Swindon said: "Times are so hard at the moment for many of the families we work with and Easter eggs are a luxury that most of them cannot afford. It is wonderful to be able to treat the children and young people with these generous gifts."

A spokesperson for Hills said: "Employees have been very generous with their donations and we are proud to be able to support this marvellous cause. We hope that all the recipients will enjoy their Easter treats."
